The mayor asked the clerk to call the roll:

| Councilman Orme | Present |
| Councilman Stone | Present |
| Councilman Wilder | Absent |

Also in attendance: Mitch Bradley, Chief Fullmer, Ione Hansen, Attorney Angell (via zoom)

Public Comment:

The mayor commenced the public comment period, affirming that the council is receptive to the concerns expressed by citizens, even if they are not directly related to the agenda. Additionally, he kindly reminded the attendees to direct their comments towards the council, as the council will duly consider all remarks, albeit without providing immediate responses.

Wayne Rogers:

Mr. Rogers mentioned that he had filed a complaint against a citizen and inquired about the reasons behind the attorney dropping the case. The mayor suggested discussing the matter further, but before the mayor could elaborate, Mr. Rogers embarked on a profanity laced tirade, voicing concerns about his First Amendment Rights being infringed upon due to the mayor's interruption.

Marie McLean: Had issues with the Lakeside development agreement: berms should be 40 ft not 30 ft; road/bridge easement should be 50 ft; development agreement should be filed with the application of the annexation.

Jim Gerdes: began talking about the comp plan and the mayor stated that topic was the next item on the agenda.

2023 Comp Plan:

The mayor asked if Melanie Smoot would step forward and brief the three new council members on the comp plan and the changes that were made. She indicated she redrafted the 2015 copy to be easier to read and added more history of the city, what a comp plan is and is not, restated the goals and policies of the comp plan, added vision statements, added area of impact (AOI) map, updated the census information to 2020.

Jim Gerdes: Stated he felt should be more community involvement.

Councilman Stone felt a better method of indexing the goals and policy section was needed to facilitate easier reference.

Councilwoman Harrison felt the vagueness of the AOI was preferred to having a narrow and tight definition. Liked having flexibility to change. Concurred with indexing chapter two.

Councilman Howe felt a tighter definition of goals is better than being vague.

Given the changes and to allow more public input, Councilwoman Harrison moved to hold a second comment period February 15, 2024, seconded by Councilman Stone.
